Keynote speaker

Paul Michael Wihbey

Paul Michael Wihbey is president of GWEST LLC. (Global Water and Energy Strategy Team), a Washington-based consulting firm specializing in the geopolitics of strategic resources such as oil, gas, water and uranium. Since the establishment of GWEST, he has written numerous articles, testified to the US Congress, and provided in-person briefings to senior government officials and political leaders in the United States, Canada, Africa, China and Latin America.

He recently keynoted at the 1st World Heavy Oil Conference in Beijing; addressed the Dialogue on North American Energy Security hosted by the Government of Alberta at the Canadian Embassy, Washington DC; spoke at Nigeria's Abuja Petroleum Roundtable; and was featured in August 2007 issue of the Canadian Profiler energy magazine on the 'Rocky Mountain Energy Corridor'.

Disclaimer

Experienced investors know that with micro caps and “development stage companies”, the risk of manipulation is higher than it normally would be with blue chips. It happens on occasion that some people will create a completely made-up story to attract investor attention for the purpose of driving their share price higher. In an effort to protect our investors, we have delegated Marc Mayor, head of the company Inside Alpha, to perform a due diligence check on each company that has been selected to present at our conferences. No system is infallible but Academy & Finance and Carriere Consulting Corp. hope that this kind of action will separate the quality from the questionable. This being said, all of our conferences are interactive and we encourage our participants to ask the most direct questions. This should enable our conferences to continue to provide the investor with what he/she is looking for: a basket of well managed companies with the potential to outperform the rest of the market as the chart above demonstrates. This superior performance is totally justified by the fact that the investors are taking a higher risk by investing in these stocks.
